280 Yanks Die On Pyongyang Death March

3 Survivors Tell Story Of War Atrocities

N. Koreans Bayoneted Yanks; Others Died Of Starvation, Cold

By TOM LAMBERT
PYONGYANG, Oct. 20—(AP)—Three American survivors said today 280 U. S. prisoners of war were beaten and murdered on a Red death march from Seoul to Pyongyang, the captured Red capital.

The three said they saw no other Americans in Pyongyang except those they marched with from Seoul.

They said they were told in Seoul that Maj. Gen. William F. Dean, commander of the U. S. 24th Infantry division who disappeared when Taejon fell last July, was in Pyongyang.

But when they arrived here they were told General Dean had died in Seoul. There was no confirmation of this report.

United Nations losses in dead, wounded and captured approach the 25,000 figure.

Pilot Among Survivors

Swinging down Stalin street—the Russian-named main street of Pyongyang—the bearded and long haired captives were found by a group of correspondents as the prisoners marched arm in arm with three North Korean students who had befriended them. The Americans told of buddies being "beaten and murdered" on a tortuous march from Seoul.

The three American survivors of the death march were:

Air Force Capt. William Locke, 30, of Enfield, Ga., an F-51 pilot whose wife Ronda and nine-month-old daughter Karen were at Yokota air base in Japan when he crashed in North Korean territory near Waegwan Aug. 17.

Army Lt. Alexander Makaroumis, 27, of Lowell, Mass., of Company I, 29th regiment, captured near Hadong July 27.

Army Sgt. Takeshi Kumda of Honolulu, Headquarters company, 34th regiment, 24th division, captured July 20 when the Reds took Taejon.

They had been hiding since Saturday.

The three were the only survivors of a group of 283 American prisoners of war marched here from Seoul in late September and early October.

The three Americans had hidden under a school and had been fed by the three students.

They came out today as the city fell to American and South Korean troops.

The trio said the Red Koreans told them they were being moved from Seoul to Pyongyang for "safety."

Denied Medical Aid

Captain Locke said he pleaded with North Korean officials not to move the men and to give medical attention to the wounded.

The airman said the North Koreans replied:

"We already got enough atrocities listed against us so a few more won't make any difference."

Captain Locke said that during the death march Americans "died like flies from starvation, cold, pneumonia and dysentery."

Seventeen in the group were wounded when an American plane strafed their column, obviously mistaking them for Reds.

The three survived because they had hidden under the school. They said others of the group were marched north as the United Nations forces approached Pyongyang. Their fate was not known.

On the trudge from Seoul to Pyongyang, the trio said the Reds shot those Americans who could not walk.

Said one:

"Some of the men were carrying their buddies on their backs. Guys who fell down were beaten and bayoneted by the Red guards."

Captain Locke said the guards killed those Americans who could not continue marching.

Lausche Laxity Puzzles State

Isn't "Mad", Makes Few Campaign Talks

(Associated Press)
Amidst the din of speeches by other candidates for high office, Gov. Frank J. Lausche's aloof manner appeared today one of the oddest developments of the bitter Ohio political campaign.

He has not conducted a rigorous speech schedule. When he does talk, he doesn't seem mad at anybody—except "bosses".

Yesterday, for instance, he traveled from Columbus to Oak Harbor and back to make one speech. That's 300 miles round trip, and Oak Harbor is a normally Republican center.

But Democrat Lausche made no cracks at his Republican opponent, Don H. Ebright. Instead he took a sideswipe at "bossism."

suggested a look at his record, then again recommended that his listeners vote for the "better" man. He still won't say either, whether he prefers his fellow Democrat, Joseph T. Ferguson, or Senator Taft.

Large Program

He declared his administration had provided improved care for the state's mentally ill through a $31,000 construction program.

About highways, he asserted "we have inaugurated the largest program in the history of the state" but warned "you cannot get complete modernization overnight."

At Marysville today, Ebright took a stronger stand. He insisted that the voters look hard at Lausche's record, as he has been urging since the campaign opened.

The Lausche administration, he said in that state reformatory town, "is playing politics with the welfare of a quarter of a million unfortunate citizens of Ohio" who came under the Welfare Department (aged, mental patients, the poor, etc.).

"The governor," he continued, "is directly responsible for the errors, omissions and lack of performance in the welfare department."

Both Busy

In the race for U. S. Senator, both Senator Robert A. Taft, Republican and Ferguson, were anything but aloof in their approach to the voters.

The apparently tireless Taft yesterday made 12 speaking stops in Columbus and Franklin county and again claimed that the CIO-PAC is opposing him with the idea of seizing control of Congress and instituting a "socialist program."

Ferguson talked at Ottawa and repeated anew his prediction that he would beat Taft by 250,000 votes. Once more, he accused Taft of opposing the farmers and said all Taft's sympathies lie with "big business."

Sheriff Probes Theft At Store Near Lisbon

Sheriff Howard Clark is investigating the breaking and entering of the National Brand Store, just outside of Lisbon on the East Liverpool rd. in which an undisclosed amount of cash and merchandise was stolen sometime Thursday night.

The sheriff revealed that the thieves gained entrance by forcing the rear door and that the store's cash register had been jimmied. The crime was reported this morning.

Quints, In N. Y. Steal Show With Songs

NEW YORK, Oct. 20—(AP)—Canada's Dionne quintuplets, who sang and sparkled last night to steal the show from a bevy of celebrities at a memorial dinner, will go quietly to St. Patrick's cathedral today to attend a mass celebrated by Francis Cardinal Spellman.

The 16-year-old girls appeared at the sixth annual Alfred E. Smith Memorial Foundation $100-a-plate dinner last night. Among the host of important folks appearing was Vice President Alben W. Barkley.

But the quintuplets did the show-stopping. In clear sweet voice, they sang six songs, in French and English—including "The Sidewalks of New York," favorite of the late Al Smith.

The famous youngsters—Annette, Cecile, Emilie, Marie and Yvonne—were dressed alike in blue taffeta evening gowns and white capes.

Besides Barkley, distinguished guests included Cardinal Spellman, New York's Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, U. S. Sen. Herbert H. Lehman, U. S. Ambassador to Mexico William O'Dwyer, and Warren Austin, chief U. S. delegate to the United Nations.

It was the quint's first visit to New York.

Burning Of Leaves Causes Five Fires

Grass and dry leaf fires broke out in a rash along S. Lincoln ave Thursday, prompting Fire Chief Vincent L. Malloy to issue a warning against burning leaves.

Firemen extinguished five separate fires along S. Lincoln ave at 6:32 p. m. and put out a similar blaze at 1612 E. State st where burning leaves threatened the home of Walter H. Scheib.

Chief Malloy warned that a city ordinance prohibits the burning of leaves along a street or alley, on public ground or near any building. He believed the fires along S. Lincoln ave were started intentionally.

Use Of Rubber Ordered Cut

25 Percent Reduction Set For Tire Firms

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20—(AP)—The government today ordered a 25 percent cut in the use of natural rubber by tire and rubber companies, effective Nov. 1.

The reduction limits consumption to 75 per cent of the average monthly consumption of natural rubber in the 12 months preceding last June 30.

A deeper cut—to 63 per cent of the earlier period—is provided for December in the regulation, issued by the National Production Authority (NPA).

The order also:

1. Limits the use of total new rubber—both natural and synthetic—to 84 per cent of the monthly average in the year prior to June 30.

2. Restricts the use of latex in this quarter—October, November and December—to one fourth of the consumption in the same base year. This, in effect, restricts current usage to the average of the base year.

3. Requires importers of rubber latex to offer at least 10 per cent of the shipments to the government's general services administration for federal stockpile purchases at current market prices.

4. Transfers to NPA the responsibility for formal allocation of government-produced synthetic rubber. Synthetic has been handled informally up to this time by the office of rubber reserve in the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. No change in present selling procedures is expected.

Firemen Give Talks To Hospital Staff

Fire Chief Vincent L. Malloy and Capt. Wright presented a demonstration and talk on fire prevention and use of equipment at City Hospital Thursday, with 80 members of the hospital staff present.

They explained the type of co-operation which would be expected between the hospital and fire department in case of fire. The demonstration dealt with the various types of fire fighting equipment in the hospital, methods of dealing with an emergency and some general instructions.

Land North Of Capital; War's End Is Foreseen

TOKYO, Oct. 20—(AP)—Thousands of American parachute troops leaped deep into Red Korea to clean up the war today.

They had two missions: To finish the U. N. war and rescue mistreated captive Americans.

General MacArthur himself directed the spectacular aerial assault, the first parachute offensive of the Korean war, from his plane overhead.

After a 15-hour flight to the scene, north of the captured Communist capital of Pyongyang, he said:

"The war is very definitely coming to an end today."

The airborne troops, floating down 80 miles south of the Manchurian border, slammed shut the Red escape gates north of Pyongyang.

They sought, too, to rescue American prisoners whisked out of liberated Seoul and to seize the fugitive Red military headquarters. But, up until a late hour Friday, there was no word whether the American prisoners—some of them forced to a death march from Seoul—had been rescued.

Less than 24 hours after United Nations troops seized the red heart of North Korea—Pyongyang—the U. S. parachute battalions were writing the final pages of the U. N.'s historic first armed police action.

The aerial operation—80 miles south of the Manchurian border refuge for straggling Red remnants—was virtually unopposed.

The Americans sealed off two highway and two railroad escape routes.

Cruising over the area, General MacArthur puffed on his corn cob pipe and told correspondents: (the AP's Tokyo bureau chief, Russell Brines, accompanied MacArthur).

"Closing the trap should be the end of all organized resistance."

The parachute troops were moving—by that time—toward the towns of Sukchon and Sunchon, 23 miles north of Pyongyang.

Surprise the Enemy
"I don't see any opposition," he said. "It looks like it was a complete surprise."

This was the apparent climax of the historic United Nations campaign, born in blood with the June 25 Red invasion of the Korean republic. The Soviet-satellite North Korean regime had fled.

Red Premier Kim Il Sung and his government were believed to be either in far North Korea, Manchuria or Soviet Siberia. Some prisoners said he was in Huichon, 80 miles north of Pyongyang.

Before the parachute troops took off for combat General MacArthur landed in Pyongyang at an airstrip in the center of the city.

He ordered Lt. Gen. Walton H. Walker, the American Eighth army commander, to send South Korean troops to the Manchurian border as fast as they can move.

Staff officers said conclusion of the organized fighting would be followed by an extensive mopping up campaign which will continue until all evidence of resistance is gone.

American troops will remain in Korea until that time. But apparently neither they nor British commonwealth soldiers will go that far.

Pyongyang Taken
The Red capital was practically secure. U. S. First Cavalry division troops and South Koreans had only a mopping-up job in the bomb-blackened city of 700,000.

MacArthur has indicated he will keep these troops short of the politically explosive Manchurian and Siberian boundaries.

South Korean forces will operate there, he has indicated, whenever resistance may crop up.

Salem Player Polio Victim; Game Is Set

A diagnosis made at City Hospital this morning revealed that Salem High football tackle Walter Wisler "possibly has polio."

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Schmidt of 999 Liberty st., he will be taken to Children's Hospital at Akron today or tomorrow for observation.

The extent of the disease cannot be determined at present.

Both Wisler and Tony Colian, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tony Colian of 411 N. Ellsworth ave., have been ill this week with what was thought to be flu. However, both boys have shown symptoms peculiar to polio.

Colian, who is a guard on the football team, showed definite signs of improvement today, his physician said.

Several Salem gridders were taken sick this week. A third, Jay England, is still confined to his in school today. Bill Crookston, home, but is improving.

The other players are all back. Bob Theiss and Fritz Roth returned after being ill most of the week. Theiss and Roth are expected to play in tonight's game at Struthers, but won't be strong enough for full-time duty.

Dr. R. T. Holzbach, school physician, said he did not plan to quarantine the team and cancel tonight's game.

Truman Asks Nation To Pray For Peace

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20—(AP)—Proclaiming Thanksgiving day, President Truman yesterday called upon all Americans "in church, chapel and synagogue, in their homes and in the busy walks of life, every day and everywhere, to pray for peace."

Under legislation which Congress approved in 1941, Thanksgiving day falls each year on the fourth Thursday of November—this year the 23rd.

"In keeping with the custom established by our forefathers and hallowed by faithful observance throughout the years," Mr. Truman said in his proclamation, "it is fitting that once again at this season we set aside a day for giving thanks to God for the many blessings which he has bestowed upon us."

"Again I ask all my countrymen to appeal to the Most High, that the God of our fathers who has blessed this land beyond all others will in his infinite mercy grant to all nations that peace which the world cannot give."

Ohio Plans New Road Building

Major Construction To Total 765 Miles

COLUMBUS, Oct. 20—(AP)—State Highway Director T. J. Kauer said today the Highway Department plans a $200,000,000 construction program in 1951 and 1952.

Actual construction will depend upon how much money the next legislature appropriates for the department, plus the availability of federal funds.

Kauer said the planned program, plus $80,000,000 in construction to be completed this year, makes Ohio's "long-range planning a reality."

"We are winning the battle of plan preparations which has always been a bottleneck in the department," he said. "In the future, Ohio need no longer suffer from political feast and famine years of highway construction." The director added that planning of the new construction had been made possible by the department's bureaus of planning and programming, the engineers' training program and use of consulting engineers by various cities.

All of the jobs planned for the next two years are of the "emergency" type to eliminate traffic congestion and safety hazards, a department spokesman said.

The 1951-52 program includes some 765 miles of major construction, more than 250 new bridges and 795 miles of resurfacing.

Among the larger urban projects planned are the inner belt freeway and east memorial shoreway in Cleveland, the Mill Creek expressway in Cincinnati, Ash-Cinsault bridge in Toledo and a Muskingum river bridge in Marietta.

U. S. Casualties In Korea Total 26,083

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20—(AP)—Announced American casualties in the Korean conflict rose today to 26,083, an increase of 1,920 over the total of a week ago.

The Defense Department said the new figure covered casualties reported to next of kin through Friday, Oct. 13. This total does not reflect all casualties that have occurred up to that time, because of the time required to check and process reports.

Of the total, 4,036 were deaths. The department said 17,711 suffered non-fatal wounds and 4,336 were listed as missing in action. Of those reported missing, 366 have subsequently returned and 107 are listed as captured or interned by the enemy.

Of the total casualties, 22,838 occurred in the Army, 2,880 in the Marine Corps, 196 in the Navy and 169 in the Air Force. Of those killed, 3,394 were Army men, 549 Marines, 51 members of the Air Force and 42 Navy men.

Of the non-fatally wounded, 15,268 were in the Army, 2,309 in the Marines, 124 in the Navy and 10 in the Air Force.

Traffic Problems

SALEM City Council's decision to abandon the "Right Turn on Red" signs at the Lincoln and Ellsworth intersections of busy State street is a wise move.

Both intersections are dangerous enough without putting pedestrians at the complete mercy of motorists who, under the trial program, had permission to proceed whether the traffic signal light was green or red. It was obvious from the start that the plan wouldn't work.

On the other hand, the plan of Council's Traffic Committee to inaugurate "drive-in" parking on a trial section of downtown State street ought to help relieve traffic congestion. By this method motorists do not have to back into a metered parking place and, as a result, moving traffic is not held up.

The council committee has worked diligently on plans to help ease Salem's traffic congestion problem and some criticism has been hurled unjustly at the councilmen. Nothing will be gained unless the experiments are tried out.

The best thing to come out of the experiments to date are the one-way streets of Lundy avenue and North Broadway. These should be enforced by ordinance.

Ohioans In The Middle

OHIOANS whose support has been given to the Democratic party's candidates in past years are in the middle of a squeeze that will shape the political structure in this state for years to come.

The campaign being waged against Senator Taft by C.I.O.-P.A.C. and its allies is also a campaign against the regular Democratic organization in Ohio in the sense that C.I.O.-P.A.C. success would mean control of the Ohio Democratic party. The deterioration of the traditional party organization would then be complete. There would be no place for Democrats who cannot swallow the thought of C.I.O.-P.A.C. domination.

They have seen this happen in the national Democratic party. They have seen moderate Democrats left high and dry by the domination of the C.I.O. over party affairs in Washington. If, as many observers believe, there is going to be a realignment which will divide the country between those who can go along with the unions and those whose principles are offended by the union's aims in politics, the deadline for decision for Ohio Democrats will be election day this year.

If they vote for Joseph T. Ferguson, they will be voting for his backers in the campaign to get rid of Senator Taft and thereby to intimidate all independent thinkers in Congress. Mr. Ferguson already has made his choice; he will go along with the unions. But there are many Ohio Democrats who cannot go along. Whether they vote for Taft, which would be an affirmative action, or only refrain from voting for Ferguson, they have an opportunity to assert themselves in opposition to seizure of their party by one of the segments of the coalition which put it into power during the Roosevelt years.

Mighty Connie Has Struck Out

CONNIE MACK's retirement was in the percentages that good baseball live by. It had been in the percentages a good many years. But this is not the time for anyone to guess how many. Mr. Mack's case was—and is—the exception.

He will be 88 next Dec. 23. He is one of the most respected men produced in the sports era covered by his lifetime. He went to bat, figuratively, for an important proposition in sports and stuck there.

The proposition was that baseball fans did not necessarily expect managers to be hired and fired according to their teams' fortunes in a given season. Mr. Mack sometimes won. More often he lost. But he stayed on as manager—50 years.

He struck out in his 50th year. His Athletics finished last. The customers had deserted the team. A financial shakeup became necessary. For the first time it became evident that only a change of managers would restore confidence in the team's potentialities in the next baseball season.

That will be next spring, not too far away. Jimmy Dykes will be the new manager of the A's. But would it be asking too much to have Connie on the bench, waving that scorecard? That is as much a part of the tradition of the national game as the flag-raising and the singing of the National Anthem.

In more ways than one you are better off with health than wealth. Nobody tries to borrow it.

A belt line to speed up grocery operations is something new and frightening, as, after all, this great republic was built on principles formulated around the store stove.

Pentagon Conference Good Example

WASHINGTON THE "this-is-for-background-so-don't-quote-me-boys-and-don't-say-where-you-got-it" kind of news conference is quite a device for pumping stuff out to the public.

It's used plenty in Washington, sometimes with explosive results. This kind of conference was held Wednesday by a couple of "high officials" at the Pentagon.

They used it to tell the public President Truman and General MacArthur, who met on Wake island last weekend, were in agreement on Formosa.

Practically every day here, it seems, a government official or someone else calls a news conference which starts off with: "Now, boys, this is not for attribution or quotation, but I want to fill you in on . . ."

This means the newsmen can write what's said but can't put any of it between quotation marks and can't even say who told them what.

The newsmen, unable to say who told them what, have to base their stories on a "spokesman," an "informed source," an "authoritative source," a "government official" or a "high government official."

This must leave a lot of readers baffled and, perhaps, justly suspicious because, no matter where or when or by whom this device is used, it is always a little less than forthright.

And there is always the danger that the reporters, without knowing it, and the public are being used for some purpose which doesn't appear on the surface at all.

BUT NO MATTER what the reason behind any off-the-record news conference there is always one result: The public is being denied full information.

Now comes the story of the Pentagon conference of Wednesday.

When President Truman flew out to meet MacArthur last week, he was accompanied by another plane loaded with top military men and government officials. Some aides accompanied the general.

There were two meetings between the President and the general: One between them alone; a second when they were surrounded by their aides.

The meeting between the two men was dramatic in itself. What made it even more dramatic was the fact that only a few weeks ago the President and the general differed sharply on Formosa.

(Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek and the remnants of his Nationalist government and troops are holed up on the island of Formosa, off the China coast, hoping the U. S. won't let the Chinese Communists, who've taken over the rest of China, take over Formosa, too.)

MacArthur publicly took the position that the U. S. must make sure Formosa remains in friendly hands. Relations between the U. S. and the Chinese Communists are far from friendly.

But Mr. Truman rebuked the general at the time by stating publicly the long-range future of the island must be determined by international decision.

So what the President and general had to say about Formosa when they met on Wake was of prime interest here and everywhere.

In his Tuesday night speech in San Francisco about the meeting, the President never mentioned Formosa, although he had been needed by Republicans, even before he made the speech, to talk about it.

Wednesday the President and his accompanying plane-load of aides flew back here, arriving around 10 a.m. About noon newsmen who cover the Pentagon, working in the press room there, received an invitation to coffee.

WHO INVITED THEM? I know but I can't say. Probably most of the newsmen around Washington know. How do we know? Because the newsmen who attended the conference told us, although they couldn't put it in their stories.

But, since the Pentagon newsmen were honor-bound not to say specifically who invited them, everyone else is put in the position of being tongue-tied.

The hosts of the Pentagon newsmen at coffee were two important officials. They opened the conference by saying nothing they said could be attributed to the directly or in quotes.

Then they said the President and MacArthur had reached agreement on Formosa. How did they know? They said the President told them. What kind of agreement? This was the $64 question. Who swung over to whose side, MacArthur or the President?

These anonymous officials said they couldn't answer that because they hadn't sat in on the head-to-head conference between MacArthur and the President. But this answer created a brand new $64 question:

If the President wanted the public to know about any agreement with MacArthur on Formosa, he could have said so in his San Francisco speech. But he didn't.

Why then did the officials in the Pentagon take it on themselves to explain something which the President apparently didn't want to touch on?

But after the story of the news conference came out, Senator Knowland, California Republican, demanded that the full text of the off-the-record news conference be cabled MacArthur in Tokyo for comment. He questioned whether the off-the-record "leak" really explained the "understanding, if any," about Formosa.

In Tokyo "informed sources"—more anonymous speakers—said Formosa was not involved in policy discussions at Wake, that MacArthur had not altered his views. This might be MacArthur's way of replying to the Pentagon off-the-record conference. How can he say publicly what he and the President discussed on the subject of Formosa before the President speaks? And on that Mr. Truman hasn't spoken yet.

Health To You

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.

Women With Enlarged Hearts

THE state of the health influences many important decisions. The first question today is an example of how carefully decisions must be weighed.

Q—Can a young woman of 23 with an enlarged heart marry and bear children?
G. B.

A—No one can give an answer to this question which will apply in all cases. The first step is to make a careful analysis of the cause of the enlargement and of the capacity of the heart to withstand physical strain. If the results are favorable, it may be possible to bear children, but even then it is necessary to watch for symptoms of heart strain particularly during the pregnancy. In other words, the answer to this question can be given only after careful study of the individual patient.

Q—For the last three or four months my eyelids have been swollen and my fingers too, at times. Could this be a sign of something seriously wrong?
Mrs. C. R.

A—The symptoms described can indeed be signs of something dangerously wrong. They suggest the presence of Bright's disease, although, of course, the diagnosis cannot be made without the examination of the urine, the blood pressure, and other tests. You should not delay having these done.

Q—Do you think doctors will ever be able to perform operations without the danger of phlebitis setting in? Reader

A—There is some danger of phlebitis after almost any operation, but this danger in recent years has been greatly lessened by requiring early rising and activity following operations, and by other new methods.

UN Given Power To Declare War

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON SLOWLY but surely the nations of the world are moving toward collective security in a practical sense. What the League of Nations failed to do, the United Nations is now doing. The latest action of the main political committee of the U. N., which provides a plan for instant summoning of international forces the moment a breach of the peace occurs, is a dramatic way to get around the oft-used veto of the Soviet government.

The security council is not ignored. It still retains its powers to enforce peace, but no one nation can block action by a veto there, because now a majority of the 60 members in the assembly also can invoke military operations if this becomes necessary.

The plan, originally sponsored by the United States under the leadership of Secretary of State Acheson, has now won the support of a majority of the nations. It means that, in effect, a world alliance has been formed. Russia can be a member of it and perform the same as any other nation if she desires.

The significance of the new policy is that no member nation is coerced to take military action. Any member can refrain and remain neutral. But the chances are that the smaller nations, knowing that they may some day be victims of aggression, will not wish to abstain for fear that they will get little support when a crisis affecting them arises.

Likewise, the larger powers will feel obligated to take part in any international police operations because they have even more at stake than the smaller nations.

THE NEW PROGRAM means that, if another big war comes, it will not be declared by one country but will be the formal resolution of the United Nations itself. This is a remarkable advance in international affairs, for it takes out of the hands of any one nation the power alone to initiate a defense against another nation. In nearly every war of defense, the aggressor claims that the military operation taken was also in self-defense. But with the United Nations to pronounce formally who is the aggressor, the peoples of the world will not be misled by the false propaganda of an aggressor nation which has threatened the peace or broken it.

The one ambiguity that arises is what the U. N. will do in the event that it knows the aggressor may at any moment strike the first blow. In this era of atomic energy, the fear is that no warning will be given by an aggressor state and that considerable destruction will be wrought before there is a chance to call a meeting of the U. N. and order retaliatory action.

This raises, on the other hand, the possibility that, in a tense situation, the U. N. itself may order a would-be aggressor to demobilize any army or to discontinue aid to smaller nations within the control of the aggressor under penalty of military action.

THE USUAL concept of preventive war, for instance, is that an aggressor would be attacked without warning just as an aggressor state has attacked in the past. But there has been discussion of an entirely different set of circumstances, in which certain aggressive actions will already have occurred and which indicate further aggression unless halted at once. An ultimatum is customarily issued under such circumstances to prevent the aggressor from attacking. If similar developments occurred in the future, it is likely that the matter of U. N. action and not the action of any one country.

For the United States, which never desires to engage in preventive war and never would be likely to play the role of aggressor at any time, the U. N. could become a protector and provide a means whereby collective defense would be brought into immediate play. Thus, with an international army, navy and air force in being, the U. N.'s committee on military action could function within a few hours' notice if the U. N. decided that military sanctions had to be imposed on any country which had begun an invasion or sent its forces into a neighboring country to provoke a war.

It will be some time before the full implications of the policy which is in the course of adoption by the U. N. this autumn will be fully grasped throughout the world, but when the policy is fully understood, it should go a long way toward preventing war and assuring peace.

U. S. Attack

By TOM LAMBERT

(For Hal Boyle)

Tanks, Planes, Men Cooperate

RED KOREA

IT WAS a quiet sunny afternoon.

An autumn breeze tugged at scrawny bolls of cotton in the fields. Dry brown cornstalks crackled like tin.

Jeeps chugged lazily along the road. Dust clouds drifted skywards in their wake.

It was one of those brief, bright respites in war—a time for planning the next move. And the U. S. First Cavalry Division's Seventh Regiment—famed since the days of General Custer—was hatching an attack.

Lt. Col. William Harris of San Antonio, Tex., a slight blonde who walks and talks softly, outlined the plan.

A platoon of tanks carrying infantry would rumble north to the walled city of Namchonjom and prove its defenses. If they were weak the city would be occupied. If they were strong more tanks and men would move north.

The order went to battalion commander Lt. Col. Gilmon Huff of Greenville, S. C., a great, red-haired man "AWOL from the medics," whose right arm is in a sling because of a recent shoulder wound.

Abruptly, the compound hummed with activity. Tankers churned their Shermans and Pershings into position. Impassive infantrymen clambered aboard. The tanks rumbled out. Jeeps chugged along behind.

DUST FROM the column rose swiftly. In a few minutes the tanks and jeeps were out of sight. But not out of hearing.

In the command post yard, a jeep's radio crackled. The tank liaison officer, Lt. Warren Allen of Ord, Neb., barked into his microphone, "Give me your position."

The reply: "Going through Pyongsan, shooting, no return fire."

Allen relayed the report to Huff.

"What about air on Namchonjom?" Huff asked.

He turned to another jeep.

Lt. Jon Robertson of Akron, an F-30 pilot on ground liaison duty, outlined the air situation:

"F-51s working over the town now and F-80s comin' in."

Huff nodded, satisfied.

The jets called in. "On station," Robertson's radio crackled. "At 18,000 feet. What's the target?"

"Wait a minute," called Robertson. "I can't see you. Come down a little and wait a minute. The 51s are working now."

THEN HE CALLED off the 51s—they can stay in the area longer than the fuel-hungry jets.

The F80s went to work, flashing quick and silvery in the sun, building a tower of smoke.

Allen's jeep radio snapped again. The tanks were outside Namchonjom and waiting for the air strike on the town.

"Tell 'em it's on," Robertson advised Allen. "Tell 'em to look," Huff added.

There was silence for a moment. Then Allen's radio crackled again. But there was interference now and the voice was not clear. Overhead the jets streaked south from the target.

"The 51s say the tanks are on the outskirts of the town," reported Robertson. Allen marked a cross on his map.

Huff was suddenly agitated. "Don't let those airplanes hit that town and those tanks," he ordered. "Call 'em off."

Robertson grinned. "Too much air power." Then he told the 51s to move north and hit another town. The 51s "rogered" their okay.

The way was clear now for the tanks and cavalrymen to move into Namchonjom—another milepost on the Red road to Pyongsang.

Salvation Army Gives Aid, Religious Guidance To Many

THE Salvation Army has been an integral part of Salem for the past 50 years. During that period the Army has improved its facilities and endeavored to meet in every way the changing needs of the people of northern Columbiana county.

The Army was housed until about 10 years ago on W. Second st. where under adverse circumstances it carried on a worthwhile program for the people of Salem. Later its headquarters was moved to 182 S. Broadway, and with the improved location and facilities, the Army has tried to give a good account of itself.

The nature of the Army's service is defined as emergency and supplement relief both for local families and homeless and for transient individuals. This service is in the form of visitations to hospitalized and home cases, character building activities for youth and religious guidance for all ages under a spiritual program.

In the near future, the Army is expecting to inaugurate once again service to veterans.

Locally, the Salem unit has been endeavoring for the past few months to open a Youth Center. Although space is limited and proper supervision scarce, the Army feels the center will meet a definite need in the city for recreational facilities for the younger group and the underprivileged.

In all its work the Army is attempting to keep in touch with the changing needs of the people of this area, and to meet that need with dispatch and efficiency whenever and wherever it occurs.

County Motor Club Has Dinner Meeting

The board of directors of the Columbiana County Motor club met at Lisbon Wednesday evening when club employees were guests at a dinner meeting.

The board approved 55 new applications for membership. The membership has now reached 3,379 members in the county. Manager Morris reported that the club had two representatives at the Travel School in Cleveland Oct. 8, 9, 10 and 11.

The board also heard a report on the operation of the air line ticket office which the club operates through their Travel Bureau in the Salem and East Liverpool offices.

The next meeting of the board will be held Dec. 6 in East Liverpool.

15 Percent Potato Acreage Cut Asked

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20—(AP)—The government recommended today that farmers cut their 1951 potato acreage 15 per cent below this year.

The Agriculture Department suggested a production goal of 335,000,000 bushels compared with this year's indicated crop of about 420,000,000 bushels.

Next year's crop will have no government price support. Congressional action this year took away supports which have cost the government more than $500,000,000 since early in the war.

The department said its suggested goal was intended to help farmers make production plans on a "realistic basis" since price supports end with this year's crop.

certed action in all matters affecting the schools.

The proposed merger would embrace the Grade School Mothers' club, the Kindergarten Mothers' club, the Booster club and the Music Boosters' club. John Hough was appointed chairman of a committee to inquire into the possibility of such a merger, the remaining members of which are Mrs. Clyde Helsel, Mrs. Jose Magill and Robert Wolfgang.

About 30 members of the club were present and heard Superintendent H. F. Richmond explain the problems and difficulties in connection with the band. M. R. Wheeler, supervisor of instrumental music, conducts three practices a week, but there are so many interests that interfere with attendance that adequate practice has become one of the major problems.

The proposal for the merger of clubs was the outcome of a general discussion of the situation in all its aspects. Another special meeting will probably be held soon.

THE SOROSIS club was host to the Music Study club at a joint meeting in the Presbyterian church, Wednesday evening, opening the season. About 50 were present for the dinner preceding the program. Mrs. George Weaver and Mrs. Sam Belief arranged the program.

Mrs. Dick Fitzpatrick, vice president of the music group, gave the address of welcome, and Mrs. J. M. Woodward, president of the Sorosis club, responded. Johnson Clair, student, who is working his way through Youngstown College, presented a program of impersonations in pantomime.

The Music Club meets the second Wednesday and the Sorosis club the third Wednesday of every month during the season.

FIRESTONE American Legion Post Auxiliary installed new officers, Wednesday evening, to serve until next July, instead of 12 months, a change in the by-laws bringing the next election in June, 1951. Mrs. Marie Lundgren was the installing officer.

The auxiliary voted to send cash gifts to each of the four veterans' hospitals, Sandusky, Chillicothe, Dayton and Brecksville, and Christmas gifts to the soldiers' orphans' home in Xenia. At the close of the business meeting, Mrs. Alice Magill gave an account of her visit last summer to Scotland, her native land.

These new officers were installed: president, Mrs. Robert Exten; first vice president, Mrs. John Dowd; second vice president, Mrs. Stewart Orr; secretary, Mrs. Robert Tieman; treasurer, Mrs. Fred Fritch, historian, Mrs. George Seederly; and sergeant-at-arms, Mrs. Russell Beck.

THE KINDERGARTEN Mothers' club met Tuesday evening in the high school building, with 22 present, and reorganized for meetings the third Tuesday of every month during the school year.

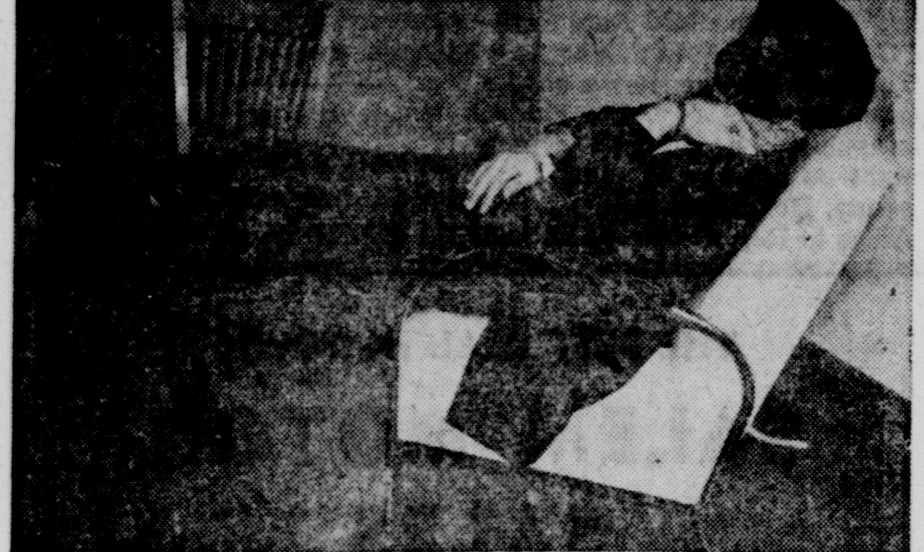

These officers were elected: president, Mrs. Jack Fullerton; vice president, Mrs. Robert Smith; and secretary-treasurer, Mrs. W. G. Gloss. Plans were discussed for a Halloween party for the children, date and place to be announced.

MR. AND MRS. Clyde Richardson have returned after an absence of ten days at the National Golden Horse Show at Springfield, Mo., where they won first for the fourth successive year with each of two colts entered. One of the entries won the weanling filly championship and the other the weanling stallion championship. The colts were shown by Robert L. Whitney and his assistant, Jean Berkimer, both of Muncie, Ind.

Extended Forecast

Temperatures will average normal to 2 degrees below. Normal maximum 59. Normal minimum 41. Cool Saturday and Sunday, temporary warming Monday then cool again by Tuesday. Precipitation will average less than one tenth inch, showers likely east portion of area Sunday and most sections Wednesday.

HEADS PRACTICAL NURSES CLEVELAND, Oct. 20—Mrs. Mary Nichols of Cleveland has been reelected president of the Practical Nurse Association of Ohio. Others reelected at an association session yesterday were Mrs. Myrtle Zuhall, Youngstown, first vice president.

RUDE AWAKENING—Sweet dreams ended sadly for Patrolman Joseph L. Hein a moment after this picture was snapped. Chicago Public Works Commissioner Oscar Hewitt, making an early morning check of the airport, discovered Hein asleep when he was supposed to be patrolling in a squad car. The Senate Crime Investigating Committee had asked city officials if Chicago cops are on the job.

Salem Players Club Will Hold Tryouts

Tryouts will be held at 7:30 Wednesday by the Salem Players club for its first play of the season, "See How They Run." New members and prospective new players will meet for rehearsal in the clubrooms located on the second floor of the Penney building.

The fast-moving comedy, to be directed by Niles R. Pettay, Jr., has been running in the east in summer stock theaters. The action concerns the lives of an old maid and a former show girl married to a quiet, unassuming vicar in a small town.

The plot travels through a series of complicated events which provide many laughs. The unexpected happens when a former actor, an escaped Russian, and some visiting bishops come to call upon the Rev. Toop.

Columbiana Trucker Hurt On Route 224

Edward Mahler, 31, of near Columbiana is in fair condition today at Salem City Hospital after an accident at 6:35 p. m. Thursday on Route 224, near the Berlin dam.

He suffered lacerations of the head, face and arms, and has a possible concussion.

State patrolmen said he lost control of his truck, went through a section of guard rail and stopped on the Berlin dam bed. Water had receded below this point.

Scraping the side of a school bus proved costly to Gilbert W. Ott, 23, of Bloomfield, O., who was fined $50 and costs Thursday by Lawrence Smith, Jr., acting judge in East Liverpool's municipal court.

Ott was arrested by state patrolmen after his semi tractor-trailer hit the bus near East Liverpool.

Questions and Answers
Q—What produces the brilliant colors of moths and butterflies?
A—The brilliant colors are due to their covering of scales. If the wings are rubbed, the colors of scales come off in the form of dust or powder. The scales lap over each other like the scales of a fish.

Oil Scandal In War Hinted

Senator Says Fuel Sent To N. Korea

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20—(AP)—Senator O'Connor (D-Md) said today that information already in hand on shipments of strategic material to Communist China indicates "the story, as it unravels, may be very, very sensational."

O'Connor is chairman of a senate commerce subcommittee investigating reports that American oil and other materials have reached China, where they could be sent on to the Communist invaders of South Korea.

He told reporters after being closeted with government officials yesterday that he is satisfied that about half a million gallons of oil were hauled to Communist China from U. S. occupied Japan after the Korean war started last June.

GOODYEAR BOOSTS WAGES

CINCINNATI, Oct. 20—(AP)—Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. today announced wage boosts averaging about 12 cents an hour for some 25,000 workers in Goodyear plants in 10 cities.

The new wage contract with the CIO United Rubber workers was signed here last night after six weeks of negotiations, and sets the pattern for the rubber industry.

THOSE REVERSE ENGLISH!—Just when the U. S. is working frantically to get its fighting ships out of mothballs and into service, Great Britain is still putting her ships away for a long rest. Here a Royal Navy ordnance worker sprays rubberized "cocoon" material on a range finder on the reserve fleet battleship King George V at Gareloch, Scotland.

Pravda Ridicules Stassen Peace Bid

MOSCOW, Oct. 20—(AP)—Pravda heaped scorn today on Harold E. Stassen, calling him silly, crude, ridiculous and several other things for requesting a conference with Prime Minister Stalin on world peace.

One of the Communist party newspaper's top commentators, Yuri Viktorov, signed the article, the first comment on the Oct. 2 letter by the former Republican governor of Minnesota to Stalin urging face to face peace talks.

The Pravda article amounted to categorical rejection of the Stassen proposals.

No Parole Seen For Slayer Velma West

COLUMBUS, Oct. 20—(AP)—The Pardon and Parole Commission said today it planned to hold no parole hearing for Velma West of Painesville, hammer slayer of the flapper era.

Chairman Percy Lowery made the announcement in connection with a new report of illness for the thin, white-faced life terner at the Women's Reformatory near Marysville.

Lowery said Mrs. West's mother, Mrs. Vanwoert, visited the commission office recently to report that her daughter was ill. But, said Lowery, a medical report disclosed "nothing alarming" about her condition.

SHOT IN ARGUMENT

YOUNGSTOWN, Oct. 20—Hercules Rumpes, 24, was in critical condition at St. Elizabeth hospital today. Police said he and Isaac Bell, 23, shot each other after arguing over a $50 gambling debt. Rumpes suffered three wounds in the stomach and one in the right leg last night. Bell was treated for wounds in his back and left shoulder.
